Faith receives the presence of Christ into our hearts. And as Luther put it, this results in a great exchange. He takes on our sin, our sadness, our misery, our fear, our anxieties, our pessimistic and dour outlook. In exchange, we receive his grace, forgiveness, love, and new life.

A Reflection on Faith - Hope Evangelical Lutheran Church

The believer “chooses that which is not present, which is grasped by faith alone.” Faith alone frees the believer from fear or self-interest, beyond all self-invented gods and sends the believer out directly to the neighbor, taking also the risk of the body. Faith alone grasps outward and forward to God’s action in the world.

Reflections On Faith - St. Robert Catholic Church & School

Scripture teaches that we are justified by faith alone. The writings of Paul show the practical implications that this doctrine has on how we are to live the Christian life. Knowing that we did not earn our own salvation makes us humble rather than spiritually prideful, which causes us to act lovingly towards believers and unbelievers alike.
